Nice romanceVon QuerleserA nice romance about a young guy (with SAD) and his new neighbour.I really liked, that Jude finally realized, that he can't change for Devin (as well as he can't not change for his mother). If he wants to change his life, he can use his neighbour as motivation to do so, but it must be by his own choice. It is nice to see his development and his fight for a happy life.

Kurzbeschreibung Everything is white in Jude Allen's world. The smell of bleach lulls him to sleep at night, even as he fears everything beyond the confines of his apartment walls. But when Devin Kidd, a kind, smiley stranger moves across the hall from him, Jude's life is turned upside down. This new man encourages Jude to look at himself for who he really is, instead of the labels attached to his illness. Will Jude be able to face his fears, and embrace his newfound perception of himself without losing Devin in the process?
