Mrder-Pirsch mit Katze und HundVon Ein KundeIch freue mich jedesmal, wenn ein neuer Band mit Mrs Murphy, Tucker und Harry Haristeen heraus kommt. Und ich mit ihnen auf Pirsch in die Niederungen des Kleinstadtlebens, auf Fuchs- und Mrderjagd gehen kann. Auch diesmal treten wieder illustre neue Akteure auf - wie auch die liebgewonnenen "Alten" - Menschen und Tiere - mit ihren liebevoll beschriebenen Eigenheiten und Schrullen. Ein spannender Kriminal- (und ein bisschen amerikanischer Heimatroman), den man gerne gut eingemummelt mit Keksen und Kakao in einem Rutsch verschlingt.0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. KurzbeschreibungSpring fever comes to the small town of Crozet, Virginia. As the annual Dogwood Festival approaches, postmistress Mary Minor Harry Haristeen feels her own mating instincts stir. As for tiger cat Mrs. Murphy, feline intuition tells her theres more in the air than just pheromones. It begins with a case of stolen hubcaps and proceeds to the mysterious death of a dissolute young mechanic over a sobering cup of coffee. Then another death and a shooting lead to the discovery of a half-million crisp, clean dollar bills that look to be very dirty. Now Harry is on the trail of a cold-blooded murderer. Mrs. Murphy already knows who it is--and whos next in line. She also knows that Harry, curious as a cat, does not have nine lives. And the one she does have is hanging by the thinnest of threads.From the Paperback edition.From BooklistIn a series that vacillates between corny and captivating, Brown's tenth Mrs. Murphy mystery lands in the plus column. This time most of the action (and the dialogue) features the three pets of Crozet, Virginia, postmistress "Harry" Harristeen: Tee Tucker, Harry's dog; Pewter, her fat gray cat; and tiger cat Mrs. Murphy, the brains of the operation. What starts as a simple case of stolen hubcaps rapidly turns complicated when someone finds the suspected thief hanged in the woods. As Mrs. Murphy, Tucker, and Pewter puzzle over whodunit, Harry enjoys dating handsome Diego, visiting from Uruguay, to the disgust of her still-smitten former husband, Fair. Two more murders make catching the killer critical, requiring Harry's pets to ask a nasty rat and a scary owl for help. Although some readers will be turned off by animal-lover Brown's inexplicable insistence on extolling the "beauty" of fox and coon hunting, loyal fans will be pleased to see Mrs. Murphy and cohorts back in fine form.
