InterestingVon S. LinderFirst a short summary:Eve Dallas is the tough lieutenant hot on his trail, but this is unlike any case she's ever been assigned - or any killer she's ever pursued. A police sketch based on eye-witness testimony reveals the killer has green skin, swollen red eyes, goblin ears, and a dislocated jaw-structure that defies the human form. Is it a mask? Is it make-up? Or is the explanation more sinister? Dallas faces off against multiple suspects - all of them students of medicine capable of precisely slicing the ears, noses, and eyes of the three victims. But who had the motive? More importantly, what kind of rogue science are these healers practicing? And you should also know before buying, that this is the J.D. Robb part of the novel THE UNQUIET. The story takes place after "New York to Dallas" Three recovering addicts who are really turning their lives around are found brutally murdered in their apartment. Eve catches the case. The weird thing is the eye-witness describes the killer as a green skinned, red-eyed monster who capered and danced up the street after the murders. He leaves behind a message on the wall of the house inscribed in the victims' blood and signs it 'Dr. Chaos.' This leads Eve and her team to a prominent rehab clinic and gives her a wealth of possible suspects. Only problem is no-one can figure out how the perp manages to look the way he does. I liked about this book that it goes after a controversial theme (gene-manipulation) and actually managed to make it sound reasonable ;-). Peabody and Dallas are together again, which makes for very funny one-liners. In the end I was only sorry that the story is only a short-story as befitting as a part of an anthology.

Kurzbeschreibung An exclusive J.D. Robb short story. Eve Dallas' latest case is starting off a little more bizarre than usual - a police sketch of a killer based on eye-witness testimony reveals he has green skin, swollen red eyes, goblin ears, and a dislocated jaw-structure that defies the human form. Is it a mask? Is it make-up? Or is the explanation more sinister? Dallas faces off against multiple suspects - all of them students of medicine capable of precisely slicing the ears, noses, and eyes of the three victims. But who had the motive? More importantly, what kind of rogue science are these healers practicing? Set between New York to Dallas and Celebrity in Death.
