feeling.If you like books about sex, than you must read this book.Strong buys recommendation!

KurzbeschreibungA story of a 39 year old entrepreneur, who ekes out his relationship in a loveless, emotionally almost desolate marriage. He leads a very successful sports company in a big city and is trapped in his successful entrepreneurship. His longing for love, affection, security and non-recognition of professional and private self-realization leaves him no choice but to break out of his life so far.Soon he met the absolute love in his life so far and tries to find for herself and the children to be lucky in this respect.But the psychological dependence of the lovers can hardly be overcome. Too much, they are still deeply tied into other relationships.Completely surprising the couple enjoy exciting, adventurous and exciting holiday of love shared in Portugal. Thus, a mutually dependent love develops over again requires a new beginning both partners.Will it still be able to build the entrepreneur and his new lover in the long term a common future? This exciting, very erotic, in large part areas, almost pornographic looking, exciting story reflects the focus of the first year, the newly won freedom of the entrepreneur who told this story here.
