in authors trilogy series that bears the same name real rollercoaster ride that introduces reader to an appealing leading character that lives within the story made of horror, fantasy and science fiction elements. The main character is a guy named Gary who, together with his cat, is going to change own life and the whole world around. An ancient space being called Moomamu has awoken on Earth in the body of a hipster in East London and wants to get back to his home. Gary will find himself captured in a story in which there are only two outcomes eliminate the threat or be killed. Luke Kondor, award-winning filmmaker and writer, with his novel 'The Hipster From Outer Space' manages to open in a great style new series characterized by the raw style and great pace - starting with the good introduction that will draw the reader completely into the story and then through lot of action, twists and turns leads to the outcome that sets the scene for the future sequels to come. Also, as previously mentioned there are some graphical violence scenes, though in this case they are an inseparable part of the story, something that only further makes this book compelling and interesting. Overall, Luke Kondor with 'The Hipster From Outer Space' succeeded in writing very good novel for audience of all ages, combining different genres managing to set the foundation for the continuation of this thrilling ride hopefully, lasting for a long time. I was given a copy of this book by the author for the purpose of unbiased review, while all the presented information is based on my impressions.
